DETAILED ACTION

This communication is responsive to the amendment filed August 15, 2005.

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 3, 10-12, 14 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102[2] as being anticipated by Damm et al. ('483 – published 2/6/03).

Damm discloses a multiple clutch unit (Fig. 2) comprising a first clutch (13), a first input shaft (14), a second clutch (13'), a second clutch input shaft (20), a first piston/cylinder unit (30, 38), a non-rotatable but axially moveable connection (Col. 8, lines 65-67; Col. 9, lines 1-13), an axially fixed second cylinder and moveable piston (31, 39), a bearing device (39'), and a torsional vibration damper (35).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4-5, 13 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Damm et al. ('483) in view of Merkel et al. ('894).

Damm does not show a multiple disc clutch. However, multi-plate clutches are conventional in dual-clutch arrangements. For example, Merkel et al. discloses a conventional multiple clutch unit (Fig. 2) comprising a plurality of shafts (44, 46, 64, 82, 84), first and second transmission input shafts (48, 66), piston cylinders (60, 80), a torsional vibration damper (40), multi-plate clutches (50), and a shaft coupling element (64).

Art Unit: 3681

Then, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use multiple-disc clutches in the device of Damm in view of Merkel to increase the torque capacity of the assembly.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 7 and 9 are allowed.

Claim 6 and 16 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 4 and 10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
